

AMERICANS FOR FINANCIAL REFORM

To Members of Congress:

We urge you to support strong fiduciary standards for all retirement investment advisers, and to oppose any measures that would delay or prevent the Department of Labor from proposing new fiduciary rules.

In today's economy, hardworking Americans need every penny of potential retirement savings. Unfortunately, millions of us are losing tens or even hundreds of thousands of dollars as a result of gaps in the rules for the financial professionals who provide retirement-planning advice on behalf of banks, insurance agencies, and brokerage firms.

As things stand, too many such professionals can present themselves (and enjoy the benefits of being viewed) as true "advisers" with our best interests in mind, yet go ahead and recommend investments that will generate more money for them, and less for the people they are advising.

After extensive study, the Department of Labor is preparing to issue a proposal to close the loopholes in its old rules and safeguard workers and retirees with 401(k) plans and Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) against conflicts of interest and abusive sales tactics when they seek out professional retirement planning advice.

We understand that some elements of the financial industry are so opposed to these new protections that they are trying to keep the DOL proposals from even being released to the public. They are trying to protect their profits from the abuses that loopholes in the current rules make possible. We ask you to stand up for the public interest, and oppose efforts to bury or delay new fiduciary duty protections.

Financial advisers should have to put their clients' interests first!
